JOURNEY THROUGH STONE TOWN

Stone Town is one of the oldest living Swahili towns in East Africa, located on the western shore of Zanzibar city. In 2000 it was marked as the UNESCO world Heritage site. The city got its name from the many big multistory buildings made of stone which form the landscape of the old town part. The visit includes time to shop for souvenirs and handicrafts along the way and going through the animated bazaars.

EXPLORE THE JOZANI FOREST

The forest is best known for its kirks red colobus monkeys (kima punju in swahili), which are endemic to Zanzibar. 10 years ago, the red colobus monkeys of Zanzibar were considered endangered, but their population has rebounded thanks to dedicated conservation efforts. Currently, about 6,000 of these monkeys reside in the Jozani Forest. Jozani Forest has several habitats including swamp forest, evergreen thickets, mangroves, as well as a variety of wildlife, including sykes, bush pigs, Ader's duiker and suni antelopes, elephant shrews, chameleons and lots of bird-life.

THE ROCK RESTAURANT

The Rock Restaurant is an extraordinary dining experience set on a rock in the Indian Ocean, offering stunning views and a unique ambiance. Originally a fisherman's post, this iconic spot now provides a perfect getaway for couples, families, and friends. Located off the coast of Michamvi Pingwe Beach on Zanzibar's southeast coast, The Rock specializes in a delightful array of fresh seafood, including octopus, lobster, oysters, prawns, and more.

PRISON ISLAND

The island takes its name from the prison that was built there in 1893. At a later stage, the buildings served as a quarantine hospital.

Today, only the ruins of the building remain from these days as well as a frangipani lined path around the island where the former patients took their evening walks.

The excursion allows ample time to stroll around, venture into the forested interior, swim, sunbathe or go snorkeling at leisure.

The island's lagoon and white sandy beaches are alluring. Here you can admire of beautiful peacocks and the secretive dik-dik the smallest antelopes in the world as well catch a close view of giant century old Seychelles tortoises.

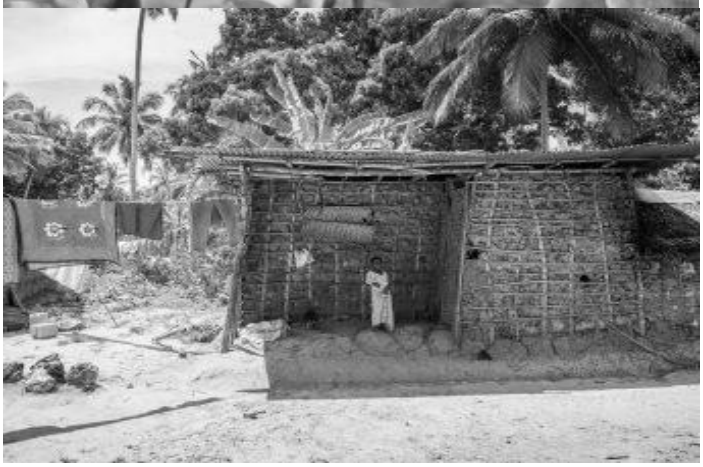

SPICE TOUR

Spices and herbs were originally introduced to Zanzibar by Portuguese traders in the 16th century, brought from their colonies in South America and India. Known as the "Spice Island," Zanzibar has a rich history in the cultivation of spices such as cloves, nutmeg, cinnamon, black pepper, and cardamom, which were once major exports. Expert local guides provide fascinating insights into the history of spice cultivation in Zanzibar, the traditional uses of spices in cooking, cosmetics, and medicine, and how these plants are harvested and processed.
